MARS

Founded in 1985 by the Hombo family, Mars owns two distilleries.

Shinshu is the highest distillery in Japan, located in the Nagano Alps, at the foot of Mount Komagatake, 800m above sea level. The second, Tsunuki, is located further south, where there is a warmer and more humid climate.

A third aging site is located on the island of Yakushima, in the deep south of the country, where there's a tropical and rainy climate. The different production methods and the different geographical locations give Mars whiskey a complex and refined character..

NIKKA

Founded in 1954, the Japanese Nikka distillery owes its international fame to the founder and visionary Masataka Taketsuru, father of Japanese whisky, who in 1928 left for Scotland in search of the secrets of whisky, becoming the first Japanese master distiller.

SUNTORY

Founded in 1899, Suntory is one of the oldest Japanese companies, which, thanks to the pioneering spirit of Shinjiro Torii, paved the way for Western liqueurs in Japan in 1923, developing a whisky with a profoundly Japanese character, refined and complex in its taste, while being easy to sip during the meal.

La Via del Té

JAPANESE TEA Pure Matcha

*For a refreshing experience,
they are available in Cold Brew,
a cold infusion.*

Izumi 15

Extremely energetic green tea, rich in vitamins and minerals but also in caffeine. The Izumi grade is intended for the preparation of traditional tea or as an ingredient in haute cuisine dishes. Herbaceous, marine notes and sweet and prolonged aftertaste.

Akashi 15

The Akashi grade is the ceremonial one, with a rich fragrance and fruity flavour, with all the best characteristics of matcha: sweet, delicately herbaceous, sweet and nutritious. The name Akashi means glow in Japanese. The result is a higher amino acid content, a sweeter and softer taste in the cup and a more intense green colour.

Horai 15

The Horai grade is of the highest quality. Suave, sweet, with a delicate aftertaste and a bright emerald green color. Horai is the name of a Japanese mythological island. Sweet and soft in the cup and a more intense green colour.
